

Elafonisos

If you ask calm and serene vacations, the small paradise of Laconia, waits for you. The island allocates big piscatorial fleet, thing that means that the visitor can enjoy during the vacations abundant and fresh fish. It allocates the third piscatorial fleet of Greece, with more from 200 piscatorial ships and with production (at the piscatorial period) 350 tons of various categories of fishes. In Elafonisos you will find some of the more beautiful beaches of Mediterranean, taverns and ouzo selling restaurant above in the small post. In the clean and graphic cafes of the village you can enjoy the coffee or your ouzo, with the octopus that is famous for. In the restaurants of island you will find several of fresh fishes. The tour of island with boat constitutes unique experience. Elafonisos however was not always islanded but linked with the land. It was separated after earthquake which is placed the 6th or 7th century. Of course when the visitor reaches in the islet Paulopetri and the sea is calm, in the bottom of sea is distinguished the department of the road. One still particularity of Elafonisos they are the infrequent cedars that sprout in the sand, phenomenon unique for Greece, and the shaping of dunes which give a different picture in the beaches. Here the sandy beach finds her apotheosis, particularly in the double beach of Simos, one of the most impressive in the country. The beach, with the two gulfs lean in a narrow band of spotless sand, the blue-green waters and the dunes is indeed unique.
